Heavy rains threaten crops

At least 10.18 inches of rain deluged four cities in central Williamson County the latter part of the past week, worsening an already discouraged outlook for county crops.

The three-day precipitation total, recorded between 7 a.m. Wednesday and about 1 p.m. Friday, included approximately four inches of rain triggered Thursday night by a cold front moving southeast across the county. The U. S. Weather Service issued severe thunderstorm warnings for Williamson County Thursday night and flash flood warnings for the western part of the county, but area law enforcement officers reported no injuries or property damage.

Georgetown recorded 2.20 inches of rainfall over the three day period, with city Public Works Supt. H. L. Sullivan reporting rainfall of .12 inch on Wednesday, .30 Thursday, and 1.78 as of about 1 p.m. Friday.

In Hutto, Merton Hackett reported precipitation of 1.36 Wednesday, 1.85 inches Thursday, and 1.30 inches Friday, giving Hutto a 72-hour total of 4.51 inches of rain, highest of the four communities reporting.

Rudy Sherek of Granger said that city received 2.92 inches between Wednesday and Friday, including 1.36 Wednesday.

Taylor got .36 inch Wednesday, .09 Thursday, and 1.30 Friday, making a total of .55 inch there for the three day period.

"Everything about this rain seems harmful," said Williamson County Extension Agent John Wakefield. "We have a waterlogged situation. Cotton and grain sorghum are hurting, there is drowning in terrace channels and low places, grass is getting to be a real problem and thrips are building up to the danger point. As far as any benefits from the rain, I can't see any."

Other Georgetown agriculture officials estimated 10 percent of this year's total anticipated cotton acreage, or about 5,000 acres, might have to be replanted or abandoned because of recent heavy rains.

The Texas Agriculture Department's deadline for cotton planting is May 20, but Wakefield said the rains might make it necessary for individuals or groups to seek extensions of those deadlines.

Precinct 1 ballot recount starts 9 a.m. Tuesday

Carl Doering of Georgetown was named chairman of a committee of three, including Henry Vitek of Granger and W. R. Scarbrough of Taylor, to recount ballots cast in the Williamson County Precinct 1 Commissioner's race Tuesday morning at 9 a.m.

Nominations were recommended by John Wehby, county chairman of the Democratic Party, as the Democratic Executive Committee met Friday morning.

Doering is election judge and party chairman of Election Precinct 2, Georgetown. Vitek serves as election judge at the Granger box.

Scarbrough, Wehby told his executive committee, has served as election judge in Taylor for many years.

"They all agreed to serve," Wehby said.

"These people are outside Commissioners Precinct 1."

Wehby and Ted W. Hejl, party secretary, explained that the recount committee need to be disinterested voters residing in Williamson County.

SIX BOXES — in election precincts 1 and 29, Georgetown, Cedar Park 4, Pond Springs 5, Hutto 20 and Round Rock 23 — and absentee ballots will be recounted by the committee Tuesday morning.

"We can finish it in one day because we've just got one race," Doering said.

Certified letters are being mailed to all Precinct 1 commissioner candidates, Wehby told the group.

The executive committee will meet to canvass the recounted results May 13.

Ballot positions for the Democratic runoff elections will also be drawn at that session.

Wehby told the committee that Election Precinct 23 Judge Ruth C. Bengston "has felt just awful about the whole thing," referring to the fact that David Oman was put in a runoff against Carl Lidell according to unofficial results, but was displaced by R. J. Woytek's eight-vote lead when a math error was discovered in box 23 returns Monday.

"RAY AND I just don't know what to do," Oman said. "Which of us should be campaigning?"

Saying he also wished to address rumors that Mrs. Bengston had not started ballot counting until after polls closed last Saturday, Wehby said, "She told me she started counting one hour after the polls opened. She is a very conscientious person. But it is an extremely big box — and the biggest ballot I can remember. It would be nice if she had a few more people working."

Michael Grimes had attended the executive committee meeting held last Tuesday morning telling committee members then, "They didn't start counting until the polls closed. This has never been a problem in Round Rock because Round Rock has never been so large before."

MRS. ALICE LUCINDA MINNICK reminisces about events of her past century of life. She planning a big weekend with her 100th birthday celebration Saturday and Mother's Day celebration Sunday.

Mother celebrates centennial birthday

by GAYLE BLAKE

While our nation prepares to celebrate its 200th birthday, Mrs. Alice Lucinda Minnick gets ready for her own centennial celebration.

Searching out the oldest mother in the county — if not the oldest at 100, she surely must be the most knowledgeable — to honor on Mother's Day was not my original intention. But when the chance came to talk with Mrs. Minnick, I grabbed it.

Who else could be more deserving?

Impressed with the beautiful, modern Angus Valley Mediplex, the nursing home where Mrs. Minnick has made her home for two years, I was fascinated to find the little lady busily crocheting a doily-type multicolored potholder as she waited my arrival.

Her bright blue eyes and soft white hair were set off by a royal blue dress accented with red and white embroidery.

Navigating her legs is here biggest hindrance. They got old before she did, so she spends most of her time in her wheelchair.

Though her feet are still, her hands make up for them. She crochets the hot pads, (mostly by feel) from heavy soft yarn selling them for 50 cents each. She says business has been so good that she is really busy just keeping ahead.

Alice Lucinda Jones was born in 1876 at her father's birthplace in McMahan, Caldwell County. She moved to Cedar Park in 1884, attending New Hope School through the eighth grade.

"I started dipping snuff when I was six, it heals all kinds of things. My son Jasper said it hasn't hurt me yet," Mrs. Minnick whispered with a twinkle in her eye.

In 1985 she married Mose Roy Minnick in the home of her parents. The couple reared four daughters and three sons, born between 1887 and 1916.

Her three sons, Nim, John and Jasper live in Austin, Cedar

New construction clears $3 million

Total value of new construction begun in Georgetown during 1976 jumped above the $3 million mark last month.

According to the City Building Inspection Department, $1,575,341 worth of new construction was authorized during April, the highest monthly tally since last May, bringing the total for 1976 to $3,061,204.

The April total included a $1,128,000 renovation of Southwestern University's administration building, construction of a new, $99,991 municipal sub fire station, and 11 new home starts within the city limits, valued together at $315,350.

So far this year, 84 new single-family homes have been started in Georgetown and its outlying subdivisions. Eighteen of the homes have been located outside the city limits, while 56 have been located within the city. The 56 in Georgetown are valued at a total of $1,716,350.

LAST MONTH the Building Department recorded construction starts on six new homes outside the city as well as the 11 approved for construction within town. Of the total 17 new homes begun last month, seven are to be located in San Gabriel Heights, five in Serenada Estates, and one each in Oak Crest Riverside, the Williams addition, the Urban Renewal addition, the Country Club V addition, and the Quail Meadows I addition.

During 1975, the city approved construction of 71 new homes in Georgetown, 66 in 1974, and 73 in 1973.

Besides the SU renovation, new fire station, and new homes, the April new construction total included $32,000 worth of additions or alterations to homes within the city. In March, the Building Department approved $509,965 worth of new construction. Last April $271,950 worth was authorized.

As of May 1, the city had approved $3,061,204 of new construction in Georgetown, compared to $1,166,535 worth as of the same time in 1975. Last year the city ended up with $5,482,983 worth of new construction, its highest annual total since 1972.

Week's news in a nutshell

Surprise of the week was the official Democratic vote canvass in the county commissioner race that apparently has ousted David Oman from the run-off and replaced him with Ray Woytek, by an 8 vote margin. Oman said he wanted a recount.

THE LANDSLIDE for Ronald Reagan and Jimmy Carter continued this week, with wins in Georgia and Indiana. Carter, the avowed opponent of Washington leadership, also carried the District of Columbia. The only primary Carter didn't carry was Alabama, Gov. George C. Wallace's home country. Wallace won that one. The three wins by Reagan gave him the front-runner position over President Ford but there are 16 more state primary contests to go and anything can happen.

Taylor building permits are up the first four months of this year, triple the amount of the period in 1975. The figure stands just a few thousand short of $1 million.

DON YARBROUGH, elected to the State Supreme Court last week because most Texans thought they were voting for Don Yarborough, a three time candidate for governor, has had no judicial experience whatever, he reveals, but will depend on God for wisdom in dealing with cases put before him. Eleven different law suits have been filed against Yarborough in Houston, where he was involved in financial deals that left a lot of people holding the financial bag and there is some chance he may be disbarred, which would prevent him from taking office.

Hundreds, perhaps thousands, of Italians are dead as the result of an earthquake in the northern regions of that country.

JERRY SADLER, another familiar name in Texas, led for a spot on the Texas Railroad Commission. He will meet Walter Wendlandt of Austin, who is a much more qualified man, in the runoff June 5.

the passing glance

By Don Scarbrough

If this column Thursday seemed to imply that anything other than an honest and easily understood mistake occurred in Ruth Bengston's Round Rock box Saturday, it certainly wasn't so intended.

THE LATENESS in the reporting of the box was my sole concern and I still hold that corrective measures should be applied to get the returns in more quickly. If additional counters are needed, they should be provided. The SUN was told Tuesday that counting at that box began only after the polls closed. John Wehby and Dick Cervenka said Friday, however, this isn't so, that counting began at 8 a.m. This fact makes the lateness all the more difficult to understand. True, the box is now the county's largest, but it has been growing steadily recently and the big vote should have been anticipated.

Candidate Oman was quoted in the Thursday SUN as saying the Round Rock box "... during the past two primaries has been the last box to report, with results not ready until 3 and 4 a.m."

BUT, AGAIN — Mrs. Bengston — I am sorry you were upset by the newspaper comments on your ballot box. It wasn't aimed at you or members of your staff, only at the late reporting, for whatever reason. It was undoubtedly a hardship for you and your people to work that late, as well as to all the people waiting at the Courthouse, including the KGTN staff who stayed until the bitter end, so I am sure we are in agreement that something to remedy that problem is overdue and desirable.

The women-folks are still buzzing about their outstandingly successful Historic Tour of Homes and Churches. In fact, they are discussing making it a periodic event, pointing out that many more interesting places can be found in this city. Anyway, it was an artistic and practical success, with visitors pleased with what they saw and the local ladies pocketing a sizeable profit to be used for the bicentennial programs later on.

COUNTY CONVENTIONS were Saturday, May 8. If some of you read this Saturday and you still have time, attend the convention. They are real educational.

Growth continues throughout the county. In the first four months Georgetown, Round Rock, Taylor and other communities have surged ahead with more residential construction than at any previous time, it seems. One of these days we are going to draw a deep breath and annex Austin and Belton, all at the same time.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS — Melinda Casey and Carol Davis pause to admire the legs of two gentlemen chatting on Main Street, explaining they are seeking contestants for the "Hemophilia Legs Contest" sponsored by the Texas Hemophilia Foundation in June. Georgetown is not to be outdone by Broadway Joe — attractive masculine legs can be found hiding under all sorts of trousers, sporting legs in all walks of life. The contest will involve matching the men's faces with their walking appendages. With a contribution to the hemophilia fund, the donor is eligible to place a vote for his or her favorite legs. ## Council sets hearing, meeting Monday night

Revenue Sharing will be the subject of a public hearing before the Georgetown City Council at 6:30 p. m. Monday, followed by the Council's regular monthly meeting.

Citizens will have an opportunity at the hearing to express their opinions on how the city should use $30,381 in Revenue Sharing funds it expects to receive over the next eight months. In the past, that money has been used for the summer paving program.

Further discussion of the subject by the Council during its regular session will follow the hearing.

THE AGENDA for the regular session is lengthy, with the Council scheduled to consider two ordinances, three authorizations, five appointments to city posts, matters referred from the Planning and Zoning Commission, and a list of miscellaneous matters.

The Council is expected to give final approval to ordinances implementing a $22,500 annual rate increase for the General Telephone Company and extended hours for operation of public pool tables.

City administrators will seek authorization to advertise for Community Development construction bids, to take bids for paving materials, and to file application for a federal grant.

Georgetown will receive a $228,000 federal

CRIME-PLAGUED AMERICANS FIGHT BACK

Chicago: Carroll Rendleman, 29, strangled a woman in 1969. Went to prison. Got out in five years.

He's strangled another one.

IF CRIME APPEARS not to pay when you see it on TV that's only because the program ends at precisely the right moment — after Kojak catches the criminal and before some judge turns him loose.

Houston: The home of Dr. James C. Johnson burglarized. Mrs. Johnson returned from a shopping trip to hear a noise upstairs. She called out, "Who's there?"

A man in his forties — big man, six-four, 200 pounds — came running downstairs and escaped. Took with him a ring worth $400.

THE VERY NEXT day Mrs. Johnson was in a front room reading when she heard a noise at the back door. Investigating she saw that someone was trying to open the door.

So she plugged her electric iron into an outlet near the back door and waited. When the man outside wearied of trying to jimmy the lock, he cracked a windowpane in the door and reached in to turn the knob.

That's when Mrs. Johnson hit his hand with that searing hot iron. He screamed and swore and ran.

Now it's the NEXT day.

By now Dr. Johnson has bought his wife a pistol and showed her how to use it. And the family dog was brought inside the house.

SO THIS TIME when some man forced his way into the house and pulled a switchblade knife, Mrs. Johnson pulled her pistol and shot the intruder.

After which the dog jumped on him.

And when the man ran limping and screaming out the back door police had only to follow the trail of blood.

That was in Houston.

That same day in Chicago Mrs. Luzdelia Ramos' house was robbed — but she screamed and her neighbors got involved.

The would-be robber came out of her house with a screwdriver pressed against the throat of a nine-year-old boy.

But the neighborhood's angry men and women and schoolagers were all over him so fast he didn't know what hit him.

THEY BEAT HIM with their hands and anything they could get their hands on — ball bats, coffee cups and bottles — and by the time Robert Mason, 21, was rescued by police and removed to the hospital he went right into intensive care.

And nobody among those neighbors has been charged with anything.

When some civil-rights protestor protested to police that these were vigilantes, that this was mob action, the unofficial police response was "We're glad to see people getting involved."

In the pro-and-con controversy over gun control, has anyone thought to ask about the householder's rights in situations like these? Imagine any farm family confronted by a sadistic motorcycle gang — unarmed.

A Negative Vote

Ronald Reagan, like George Wallace, articulates the deep frustration that many Americans feel toward their government.

So, perhaps to a lesser extent, does Jimmy Carter.

AND, SO ALSO, does Governor Jerry Brown of California who is currently testing the political waters for a possible late entry in the Democratic presidential contest, almost wrapped up at this time by Carter.

So, it's not a positive, but a negative drive that is sending our voters to the polls this summer!

Everyone (or nearly everyone) feels he is being ripped off — by the government's tax system, by their legislators who have voted themselves not only a big raise but cost-of-living wage increases, and by big business. They feel hemmed in, powerless. They see their dreams of financial security and old-age amenities vanishing, and they are sounding their frustration at the ballot box.

IF THEY LIVE IN TOWN, they fear walking alone at night and protect themselves behind three or four locks and other security measures. If they live in the country, they keep their rifles polished and hope for the best.

"Ripped off," is their expression.

It's pretty darn expressive, too.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

Green, Red, Yellow, Pink, Orange... Texas Ambrosia

Texas agriculture is ready to serve up some of its best-tasting food in the coming weeks. In some parts of the state, it's time for tomato harvest as well as cantaloupe, watermelon, carrot, cucumber, honeydew, green pepper, and onion.

It's fresh fruit and vegetable time in Texas. Now is the time to get ready to enjoy it.

Cantaloupe harvest, for example, is expected to be underway this week in the Rio Grande Valley, while in the Laredo area the crop is making good progress; in the Winter Garden area, planting is finished.

Watermelons are expected to be coming from South Texas this month. Seeding is in progress in the eastern part of the state and planting will also be underway on the High Plains this month.

Tomato harvest in the Valley is making progress. Elsewhere, planting is moving along; some plants had to be replanted due to freeze damage in Central Texas. Field setting is active in both East and North Texas and planting should be in progress on the High Plains.

A small crop of honeydews has been planted in the Laredo area this season. Harvest should be moving along now. The majority of the crop will be grown in the Valley and it is making good growth.

Harvest of the green pepper crop is also underway in the state. The majority of the crop is in the Valley. Only a small acreage is expected in the San Antonio-Winter Garden area.

Stuart Long Austin Notebook

by Patrick Conway

AUSTIN—A two party system in Texas. That's what the Republicans have been talking about for years.

They got a taste of two party politics in the presidential primary, and some members of the GOP, notably supporters of President Ford, didn't like it.

Some of the losers are complaining that conservative Democrats — especially former supporters of Alabama Gov. George Wallace — crossed over and voted for former California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Harris County GOP Chairman Ray Barnhart, who was one of the movers and shakers in the Reagan Texas campaign, is more than a little upset about that kind of talk.

"They are trying to minimize their defeat," Barnhart said.

He noted that Wallace received 270,798 votes in the Democratic presidential primary, and allows that some of the governor's supporters may have voted for Reagan but the turnout was certainly not overwhelming.

"Reagan got votes from people in all walks of life," Barnhart said, "and that just proves what we have been saying all along — that he has tremendous support in both rural and urban areas."

As for complaints that conservative Democrats voted in the GOP primary, Barnhart added that the Republicans have to draw those voters into their elections to be a legitimate two party challenger in Texas.

Nationwide, the GOP boasts fewer than 20 per cent of all registered voters as members of the Republican Party.

So with a record Texas primary vote of 419,406, the voters had to come from somewhere other than the party. Some were conservative Democrats, he said, but most were the independents who usually reserve their opinions until November general elections in Texas. Many were Republicans who usually cross over and vote in the Democratic primary.

"We said Jerry Ford did not have appeal in Texas, and the rank and file people agreed," Barnhart said.

Whatever the reasons for the victory, Reagan will always have a warm spot in his heart for Texas.

The victory put him back into the race, and certainly helped him win the important Indiana primary.

So it looks like it will be a stretch run between Reagan and President Ford, and possibly a deadlocked GOP National Convention.

What would that do for John Connally?

It is too early to do anything more than speculate, but that has been the political fun game for years.

But it would be kind of interesting if the GOP turned to Connally as a compromise because Reagan came back as a strong challenger to Ford because of a vote taken in Texas. The Reagan folks remain confident that he will get the nomination. The Ford folks are just as confident.

Barnhart is more confident than others. "We had a November election in May," Barnhart said of the presidential primary.

SUMMER AT SOUTHWESTERN

An Educational Experience

Southwestern University is offering more than ninety courses during three terms in the summer of 1976. The schedule includes a number of basic courses which will satisfy core requirements as well as several new and innovative courses which may not be offered during the fall and spring semesters. This summer, also, there will be additional workshops, tours, and "intensive study" courses plus several late afternoon and evening courses open to both college students and others from the community. Inquiries concerning these courses are welcomed.

THREE TERMS

The Summer Session is divided into three terms: May 11 to June 1, June 2 to July 9, and July 12 to July 30. Registration for each of the terms will be held on the first date of the term. Classes not enrolling eight students may be abandoned at the discretion of the instructor. Tuition for regular summer session work is $60 per semester hour; room and board for each three week term is $90 (19 meals a week) and $180 for the six week term. See special brochures for information on workshops.

ACTIVITIES & RECREATION

Students attending the Summer Sessions will have use of all recreational facilities — swimming pool, golf course, tennis courts, and game rooms.

Jack Anderson Washington Merry-Go-Round

card was forged.

This is important, because it raises a question about any recent documents bearing his name. Handwriting experts will have to verify carefully whether his signatures are fake or fraud.

We also made a strange discovery in Acapulco. The story was put out that Hughes paid $10,000 a week for the penthouse of the Princess Hotel. It included the presidential suite, Roman baths, a board room and bedrooms with velvet-covered walls. But Hughes was confined in Room 1212, this astonishingly, was the smallest, least imposing, poorest located room in the complex. His aides got the fancier rooms, with the seaside view.

The day after Hughes was flown to Houston, the Mexican authorities showed up at the hotel to question the aides who had been left behind. They encountered an aide named Clyde Crow in the lobby. He immediately telephoned the penthouse and made a strange statement. "Wash your hands," he told his associates, "and come on down."

The police suspected that the remark, "Wash your hands," was some kind of signal. By the time they reached the penthouse, they found three plastic bags stuffed with shredded documents. Thousands of documents have been turned into confetti.

Watch On Waste: Almost invariably the worst waste is found in the armed forces. Military procurement officers seem to have a cavalier attitude toward the taxpayers' money. Enough never seems to be sufficient, they are constantly submitting requisitions for more.

Sometimes the waste is highly technical. This makes it harder for the taxpayers to understand and, therefore, easier for the military brass to get away with.

For example, we have obtained a confidential auditor's report on the Army's new twin-engine helicopter. The name is enough to discourage taxpayers: from wanting to know anything more about it. It is called the Utility Tactical Transport Aircraft System. This is too big a mouthful, even for the Army brass, so they refer to it simply as the UTTAS.

The Army wants to buy 1,117 UTTAS helicopters, and the taxpayers are going to have to pay about $3 billion apiece for them. That is three-billion-three hundred-thousand dollars of your money.

Yet the auditor's report states that the UTTAS weighs too much, which keeps it from hovering satisfactorily. It also vibrates too much.

But it's the cost figures that disturb us the most. Back in 1971, the Pentagon promised that the UTTAS would be 17 per cent less expensive to operate than the UH-1 helicopter, which it is supposed to replace. Now the latest figures show that the UTTAS will be about 25 per cent more expensive to operate than the UH-1.

Although the UTTAS is going to cost the taxpayers at least $54 million more than the original projections, Congress is expected to go ahead with the appropriation. Congressmen who deliver loud speeches against the waste of paperclips sometimes defend the most extravagant weapons.

Secretarial Syntax: Our informants inside the Federal Energy Administration have sent us two internal memos, which tell their own story.

In the first one, section chief J. Gene Curella declares: "Starting Wednesday, we will reinstitute the staggered lunch hour routine ... I will again remind those of you who don't follow the rules I have set up for this office that you are treading very closely to being suspended without pay ... or transferred to another unit."

The following day, Curella issued another memo. It declares gravely: "I am officially asking that Mrs. Jackie Johnson of my staff be transferred to another division ... The reasons include the following:

"During a morning staff meeting on a very sensitive matter (namely, the lunch hours scheduling), she abruptly left the room and uttered 'BLEEP!' as if to impugn my management technique."

TP&L says Clean Air Act would increase utility bills

The Clean Air Act and amendments now under consideration by the U. S. Senate will add an extra $2,625 in electric costs to each Texas household over a 15-year period, J. F. Skelton, Texas Power & Light Company president, said today.

Amendments to the existing Clean Air Act are scheduled for debate in the Senate during the first week of May, he noted.

"The Clean Air Act is already estimated to cost every Texas household $1,765 over the 15-year span from 1975 to 1990," he explained. "We had hoped the amendments in Senate Bill 3219 would reduce this figure, but instead they will add another $860 to the amount."

Skelton's figures are based on a report prepared by Dr. Lewis J. Perl of the National Economic Research Associates. Skelton stressed that the charges are in addition to the electric costs customers are now paying and those which will be paid in the future.

"If these amendments become law, companies such as TP&L will be forced to install expensive — and reliable — scrubbers at its coal-fueled power plants," Skelton said. "Additionally, we could be forced to use imported coal whose delivery costs would be exceedingly high. In either or both cases, our customers would bear the burden of these additional charges."

He said that scrubbers are neither economically nor technologically feasible at the present time. "They do more harm than good to the environment," Skelton declared.

Skelton suggests that Texans immediately write Senators Tower and Bentsen expressing their opposition to Senate Bill 3219 and asking that the current Clean Air Act be amended so that its costs of implementation are reduced, not increased.

Kubiak pleased with victory

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale today said he was extremely gratified and encouraged by his renomination to the Texas House of Representatives for District 36 comprised of Milam, Falls and Williamson Counties. Kubiak swept to a Democratic primary win with a four-to-one margin over his opponent, Mr. C. W. Stockton of Georgetown. Unofficial results showed Kubiak winning 16,117 votes to Stockton's 4,281 votes. "Naturally I am pleased with the returns, and especially with the convincing margin which they gave me," Kubiak said. "It is most gratifying when the people show their confidence in me to this great an extent." Kubiak said the win only served to reinforce him in his battle to bring some relief to his constituents from two major problems: "Outrageously high property taxes and exorbitant, ever-increasing utility rates." "We've got to put a ceiling on ad valorem property taxes and today's not too soon," Kubiak said, "plus the high cost of electricity and natural gas have got to be stabilized and preferably reduced." "These will continue to be at the top of my priority list," he added.

Jaycees to prove "anything goes"

Anything goes? Well, almost anything goes at Dragon Stadium in Round Rock May 21 at 7 p.m.

That's when teams from Georgetown, Round Rock, Granger, Taylor, Pflugerville and Elgin compete for television filming of the nationally syndicated program

"Almost Anything Goes." AND THAT'S the show where teams representing their cities compete in all sorts of wacky contests, with proceeds going to such charity organizations as, in this case, Big Brothers of Austin.

Each team will consist of three males and three females, plus an alternate of each sex. Coaching Georgetown's team will be Jaycees president Dave Skinner.

"I'M THE COACH, but how do you coach anything when you don't know what you're going to do?" Skinner laughed.

"We're hustling young John Doerfler to be on this team," added the "coach."

While Jaycees in the cities involved are working on organizing the event, all citizens are invited and urged to attend — because the second half of the show is theirs.

Winner of the six-team competition during the first half of what Round Rock Jaycees representative Mike Robinson says will be paramount to a three-ring circus, will be challenged by teams composed from the audience.

TICKETS are $3 each, available in Georgetown starting Wednesday at the offices of Semcor, Inc., Texas Crushed Stone Company and

She is welcomed at home by a sister and brother, Kasandra and Dwayne.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Parker of Georgetown, Patsy Brewer of Llano and Wiley Burton of Houston.

Bouffard Transfer and Storage. "There's no guarantee we'll be on national television — that's up to the editor," Robinson explained. "But we have as good a chance of getting on as anyone being filmed."

"Almost Anything Goes," which works with Big Brothers and Big Sisters organizations nationwide, will donate a percentage of all gate costs to the Austin charity branch.

"SHEER BEAUTY" MAKES FASHION NEWS — Feminine, lightweight, fragile — all describe one of the major fashion moods for spring and summer '76. Sheer fabrics, from voiles and crinkly gauzes to chiffons, are an important trend-setting look for designer, ready-to-wear and home sewn fashions. For added versatility, sheers are often combined with a companion fabric in the same or contrasting color and pattern. Light to medium-light wovens, knits or quilted fabrics are ideal for pants, tailored skirts or detail areas, while the companion sheer highlights blouses, jackets, scarves, shawls or full skirts. Popular sheer designs often also feature smocking for yokes, cuffs or waistlines.

Delicate florals, stripes and solids are sheer fabric fashion leaders, especially when colored as neutrals or pastels. Many sheer fabrics are comfortable, easy-care cottons and cotton blends. Silk and silk-like sheers have returned strongly for evening and dressier looks.

TIPS FOR SEWING SHEER FABRICS— Sewing with this season's stylish sheer fabrics is fun and challenging. The see-through characteristic of sheers is suitable for numerous creative possibilities. For design interest, practicality or comfort, various parts of a sheer garment can be lined, underlined or constructed of an opaque companion fabric. Sheers lend themselves especially well to designs with fullness. Any design is softened and airily lightened when made in a sheer fabric. If in doubt about whether or not a design is suitable for a sheer, check the

The Sunday SUN

"recommended fabrics" section on the back of the pattern envelope.

When choosing construction techniques to be used, the most important point to remember is that the sheerness of the fabric lets the inside of the garment show through. Neat, narrow seams approximately one-fourth inch wide are ideal.

Other specialized sewing tips for sheer fabrics include:

—Use a fine new needle size 9 or 11. Dull or burr-ed needles will snag or ruin the fabric.

—To prevent the fabric from being drawn into the bobbin area, place the needle in the far left or right hand position, lower the needle into the fabric and hold both top and bottom threads before beginning to sew.

Sandwiching delicate sheers between strips of tissue paper helps fabric feed smoothly without marring, slipping or jamming.

Select lightweight closures such as synthetic coil zippers.

Coupland plans

bicentennial bash.

There will be dancing in the street in the old town of Coupland Sunday, June 6, as this small community east of Austin celebrates its Bicentennial Homecoming. The event will include a speech by Senator John Tower, a barbecue lunch, a dedication of its State Historical Marker and its restored Railroad Depot Museum.

Art and Craft Booths will be open all day. Musical tributes and registration will begin at 9:45 a.m. in the town's only church-St. Peter's. Music for the Street Dance begins at 7:30 p.m.

For booth reservations or information, call weekdays this Austin number: 928-0335 for Mrs. Tom Petrus.

PAYING A NOSTALGIC VISIT to Kokel's barber shop last week were members of the Wallstreet Wonders barbershop quartet, who are finding their popularity increasing as the bicentennial celebration nears. The quartet harmonizes while waiting for their turn in Kokel's chair. Members include Ray Mickan, Bob McKay, Paul Petkovsky, seated, and Ned Snead.

Liberty Hill NEWS

BY HOWARD N. WILSON

This is "The Mothers' Day" edition of the Liberty Hill News, so we will start off with a SALUTE TO ALL OF THE MOTHERS in the area. Motherhood is unquestionably one of the highest callings on earth, and all of these dear ladies deserve much more credit and consideration than they get, so we will say to all of you mothers that we love and respect you deeply!

When schools open next fall our high school program should be back in full and complete operation. With our new high school and the ever-increasing population in our area, it is not unreasonable to expect that our enrollment will be at an all-time high. Our school is something we should proudly support both physically and financially, and I am confident that most people in our community are as proud of Liberty Hill and Liberty Hill schools as I am.

Due to an oversight Liberty Hill's Junior High School University Interscholastic League participants were not recognized in an earlier column. The contestants and their categories were as follows: Oral Reading—Connie Burnett, seventh grade; Beth Wear, eighth grade; and James Williams, of the seventh grade. Ready Writing—Lisa Floyd, seventh grade and Laura Forbes, also of the seventh grade. Spelling—Lisa Bohanan of seventh grade; Diana Haight of seventh grade; and Beth Wear of eighth grade.

Beth Wear placed second in oral reading with the poem, "Silence," and Susan Moore placed fifth in the elementary division of oral reading with the poem, "The Little Black-Eyed Rebel."

The contestants all worked very hard and did a fine job in their participation. The competition was very keen since there were no less than 25 contestants in each category. We concur with the coaches in saying, "Congratulations to you all, and we wish you good luck again next year!"

Friday, May 14, the Liberty Hill Elementary School fifth and sixth grade students will be among their counterparts from the surrounding schools in a Field Day-Track Meet they will sponsor at Liberty Hill Elementary school. Events included 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 440-yard relay race, 880-yard relay, broad jump, high jump and shot put.

The competition will be scheduled from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Only fifth and sixth graders will be eligible and no contestant can enter more than three running events. Everybody in the area is invited to come and watch these contests; there will be a concession stand to provide refreshments.

The Liberty Hill Junior High School Girls participated in the District 38-B track meet May 4 at Pflugerville. The girls placed sixth overall with a total of 47 points.

The 440-yard relay team composed of Beth Wear, Sherry Whitt, Annette Milligan and Sherry Hays placed fifth with a time of 58.8 seconds.

Beth Wear placed first in the 220-yard dash with a time of 28.9 seconds.

In the 60-yard dash Sherry Hays placed third with a time of 8 seconds, and Annette Milligan came in sixth with a time of 8.1 seconds.

Beth Wear placed second in the 80-yard low hurdles with a time of 14.1 seconds and Sherry Hays took first place in the 100-yard dash with her time of 12.4 seconds.

The mile relay team of Gayle Lenox, Janice Johns, Larena Gabriel and Donna Holder took fifth place with a time of 5:41.7. Beth Wear placed second in the long jump with a leap of 14 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

In the Junior High School Track action The Liberty Hill Panthers boys' team scored 57 points and finished in fourth place in the overall standing. Scoring for Liberty Hill were Ray Satterwhite, who took sixth place in the discus, sixth in the 100-yard low hurdles; Walter Rutherford came in first in the 1320-yard run, third in the long jump and fourth in the 100-yard dash; David Brown was fifth in shot put, fifty in the pole vault and fifth in the 100-yard low hurdles; the sprint relay team of Dodd, Berray, Hernandez and Rutherford placed third, and the mile relay team of Brown, Berray, Hernandez and Dodd came in fourth.

The All-Sports Banquet is scheduled for Saturday, May 8, at 7 p.m. at the school. A dance will follow the banquet in the gym.

The menu for the Liberty Hill School Cafeteria for the week May 10-14, will be as follows: MONDAY

Cheeseburgers with lettuce, tomatoes, pickles and onions, French fries, ice cream and milk

TUESDAY

Pizza, salad, green beans, peanut butter crunch and milk

WEDNESDAY

Roast, potatoes with gravy, English peas, fruit and milk

THURSDAY

Corn dogs, beef, salad, peanut butter cookies, applesauce and milk

FRIDAY

Taco rolls, pinto beans, salad, fruit and milk

The Liberty Hill Garden Club had its monthly meeting Wednesday, April 14, with 11 members and several visitors, much to the delight of everyone, in attendance. The ladies learned a lot of do's and don'ts about flower arranging. The ladies won an award for their flower arrangements. Congratulations, ladies.

The next meeting of the Liberty Hill Garden Club will be held May 12; this is the beginning of a new year, so there will be a covered dish luncheon at the home of Adela Smith.

All of the members and anyone else who would like to become a member should make plans to come to this meeting—you can help to get this new year off to a great start. Dean Cluck, publicity chairman, observes that the Liberty Hill Garden Club is both FUN and EDUCATIONAL! By being a member you can make many new friends. Dean wants to remind everyone to come to the meeting at which time the new officers will be installed. Come and join the Liberty Hill Garden Club!

Mr. and Mrs. James Cluck had their daughter and son-in-law from Kasson, Minnesota visiting in their home last week. Their son, Ed, has returned from the service after spending eight years at Ft. Sill, Okla.

People smoke for many reasons, but they can stop for just one — their health! Don't smoke — you will cough less and enjoy life more.

Parents express concern for drug problem

Concerned parents met with Liberty Hill school trustees Monday night to discuss two problems — drugs and hazing — which have recently surfaced in the Liberty Hill schools.

Parents expressed a strong desire for school officials to do something about the problem. School administrators said they were attempting to handle the situation in the best possible manner, but could not accuse someone of possessing or smoking marijuana without evidence.

Administrators also pointed out that the schools only had the children about eight hours a day and only had control over them during that time. The parents promised to back the administration in any way.

"One of my daughters is afraid to come to school, because there is a small group of children harassing my girls, destroying their clothes and books. My girls have been offered marijuana," Kay Bohanan said.

"What's being done about this?" Sandra Thomas queried. "If my child was on drugs I would want to know, so I could help him break this habit."

"No student should be afraid to attend school because of harassment or physical harm," she continued. "We need more and closer discipline."

When parents asked if action had been taken, Superintendent of Schools Bud Perry said, "We have put a woman on duty to monitor the halls and restrooms. She makes her presence known. We spent the Thursday before Easter trying to find the person peddling the drugs."

"Have you found pot on school property or students?" Mrs. Larry Floyd asked.

"The odor has been present and prevalent at times," Perry answered.

Parents asked Perry if he was afraid to confront parents with the fact that their children were taking drugs or smoking marijuana, assuming he had a list of students involved.

"I have no list. I would not be afraid to confront parents if I had substantial information that their child was involved."

"We have the right to expel a student for the remainder of the school year if he is caught smoking on school premises," Robert Moore, school board president said. "Are you going to back us?"

"Certainly. Sure. Of course," echoed the audience.

"I'm going to continue to campaign against the use of drugs in our community and schools," Mrs. Thomas stated receiving an ovation for her concern.

"We discipline our children at home but it doesn't do any good unless we are backed by teachers and administrators who have our children eight hours a day," Mrs. Bohanan finished.

Other business included the school attorney's report on delinquent taxes, consideration of placing financial records on computer, renewing contract with USDA commodities and the requisition of textbooks.

SCS reports stock ponds, grass planting under way

Weather conditions during the past month have been ideal for grass planting and replenishing stock water.

Bertie Robinson of the Andice Community has just recently completed a farm pond and it should be full of water. Patrick O'Malley of the Hopewell Community has constructed a new pit-type pond.

People who have planted grass should have good success this spring. William Drake, who ranches near Green's Corner in the northwestern part of the county, has planted King Ranch bluestem. John Warren, in the same community, planted 43 acres of kleingrass. Dr. Mac Brannen, who ranches six miles northwest of Georgetown, planted about 60 acres of King Ranch bluestem. Raymond Moore, who lives two miles south of Florence, planted coastal bermudagrass.

The Soil Conservation Service personnel at Georgetown have assisted many others with their grass plantings and have designed and laid out nine livestock ponds in recent weeks.

Unemployment presents major mental health problem to many Prolonged unemployment can be more than a pain in the pocketbook. It can cause depression, anger and even sexual impotence in some people, according to the Texas Medical Association.

Some social psychologists say unemployment is one of the nation's major mental health problems. About 283,400 Texans are unemployed, according to the most recent Texas Employment Commission statistics.

A recent study outlined in "Today's Health" magazine shows that people often rely on their jobs for a sense of identity and self-worth. A job even gives people a sense of time since they must function on some type of set schedule.

Work can give people status, a sense of independence and a means of contact with society. "Lack of work, especially for a male, puts him in a psychological no-man's-land," says the study's author, Hannah Levin, Ph.D., a New York psychology professor.

Dr. Levin says these feelings of helplessness can cause sexual problems and medical complaints and can encourage criminal behavior.

Sometimes people, attempting to relieve their feelings, strike out in anger at the nearest object. Some turn to alcohol or other drugs. Others flee to schools, hospitals or other institutionalized settings.

Obviously the best cure for the ills of unemployment is getting a job. But it is equally obvious this can be very difficult.

One psychiatrist suggests people work off their anger by participating in sports and other physical activities. Expanding anger in physical activity can keep stress from being internally disabling or exploding destructively.

OPTIMISTIC. Colonel Wilson Speir of the Texas Department of Public Safety tells Georgetown Optimists "the real causes for the greatness of America are the people of this country. If we have missed any opportunities as we came up through life, let's take full advantage of every one from now on." Speir spoke at the May 4 Optimist meeting in honor of Respect for Law and Order Week, May 1-7.

Jarrell ISD sets Tuesday meeting date

Jarrell school trustees meet in regular session at 8 p.m. Tuesday to consider an athletic budget for the 1976-77 school year.

Also on the agenda for school board consideration is placing items out for bid, to include used bus tires or dishes if the board directs.

A short executive session will be held to appoint an assistant for Jarrell ISD tax assessor Jerry Valenta. Tim Havelka, appointed to the position during the board's special April 29 meeting, was unable to accept appointment.

The meeting is being held Tuesday rather than on the regularly scheduled second Thursday of the month due to scheduling conflicts with the Jarrell Junior-Senior Banquet.

Ladies Auxiliary elects officers

The Ladies Auxiliary elected new officers at their regular meeting April 20.

Officers elected were Selma Teinert, president; Evelyn Ballard, senior vice president; Irene Tidwell, junior vice president; Stella Sluder, treasurer; Bobby Fletcher, chaplain; Elizabeth Williams, conductor; Leona Morris, guard; Ruby Snowden, three year trustee; Helen Klepac, secretary; Lena Bosshard, historian; Evelyn Werchan, patriotic instructor; Rose Aleman, color bearer one; Ruby Reeder, color bearer two; Bennie Dodson, color bearer three; Nelda Hamilton, color bearer four; Virginia Stried, banner bearer; and June Pate, flag bearer.

The Auxiliary is sponsoring Eunice Teinert for the Miss Georgetown contest.

The next regular meeting will be held at 8 p.m. May 18. The installation of officers will be May 20, with Vida Bosshard installing.

No recount requested, but Bell has problems too

If Bell County voters just north of Williamson County — including residents north of the county line splitting Bartlett into a two-county town — had an easier time when it came to counting ballots Saturday night, they had more problems than Williamson County election officials did when it came to getting started.

Instead of paper ballots Bell County uses voting machines which automatically add each vote to totals locked in behind the machine.

When the polls close the totals are there, all ready to be read from the machine and recorded. But when the machine is not set right, voters — and election officials — have trouble.

All 74 voting machines in Bell County were incorrectly adjusted as polls opened at 7 a.m. May 1.

"Every voter was put on notice," said Veda Sutton, assistant Bell County clerk in charge of voting programs and county chairman of the Democratic Party. "They were allowed to go ahead and vote if they weren't interested in the presidential delegates, or they were told they could come back in half an hour and the machines would be fixed.

"We were being so careful to see that voters could choose any three of the 12 delegates that we tied the senator's race in with them."

Voters who decided to vote before the machines were adjusted could place a maximum of three of the four allotted votes in the presidential delegates' and senatorial race, choosing three delegates and skipping the senatorial race or choosing only two delegates to vote in the senatorial race.

"It was not a big deal — it

Austin Savings donates $5,000 to hospital fund

Austin Savings officially opened its new Georgetown office with a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 3:30 p.m. Friday. Wayne Riddell, president and chairman of the Board of Austin Savings, presided at the ceremonies, introducing Mayor John Doerflinger and other members of the city council.

The colorful red, white and blue bicentennial ribbon decorated with replicas of the wouldn't change results of the election anyhow," said Ms. Sutton.

historical Republic of Texas $100 bills, special $2 bills bearing an engraving of the Declaration of Independence, and dime banks, the symbol of thrift, were presented to Lynn Burnette and Jo Ann Morse, co-chairmen of the Georgetown Bicentennial Commission. The $50 will be used for the bandstand being built in San Gabriel Park, one of GBC's projects.

"Another important contribution to make at this time is to a cause which we consider to be of vital importance to the citizens of this whole area, namely the Georgetown Area Hospital Development Fund." Riddell said as he presented a check for $5,000 to Buster Compton, chairman of the hospital drive.

"We certainly do thank you for this contribution. It is a pleasure for me to accept this for the hospital drive. The hospital fund is going fine because of kind people like you," Compton responded.

The Georgetown Hospital Area Development Fund now stands at $414,400 with this contribution.

"We shall aim to be good citizens, sensitive to the needs of the community, while at the same time we hope to add impetus to the Georgetown economic development by making loans available and generating additional income through the payment of thousands of dollars of dividends each year on savings," Riddell concluded.

Blanton files $40,500 suit against SU Mother celebrates

Dr. Paul Blanton, director of the Social Internship Program at Southwestern University, filed a $40,500 suit against the university Monday for breach of contract.

Blanton's suit refers to his faculty contract employing him for an $11,000 annual salary from fall of 1973 through August, 1977.

He was orally notified on January 19, 1976 by SU President Durwood Fleming that the contract would be terminated September 1 of this year, according to Blanton's original complaint.

The suit alleges that, according to the faculty handbook, Southwestern University must supply written notice not later than December 15 of the second academic year of service if the appointment is to expire at the end of the year.

This, Blanton's legal statement maintains, the University failed to do.

CLAIMING BLANTON has not been allowed ample time to obtain new employment in a faculty position in the academic community, the suit alleges. "If Dr. Paul Blanton is disproved of his present position as a faculty member and academician, such deprivation will be so detrimental to his teaching career that there exists no adequate remedy at law."

The suit claims damages in the sum of $12,500 for the loss of salary from September, 1976, through August, 1977; damages in the amount of $25,000 to Blanton's career and "irreparable injury upon his chosen profession if, in order to support his family and himself, he is found to take employment outside his chosen field"; personal costs and expenses necessitated to see future employment for the 1976-77 school year in the amount of $500 and attorney's fees of not less than $2,500.

In conclusion, the suit requests award of judgment directing Southwestern to comply with the contract or pay $40,500 for costs and relief.

Park and Leander, respectively. Her daughters — Martha, Sadie, Reba and Moselle — are deceased.

Mrs. Minnick's husband died in 1919, leaving her with seven children, aged three to 22 — and a farm.

"I'm not bragging, my friends always told me this, that I did a good job raising my family. My children were never in any serious trouble."

"I raised my children to work and to obey their father and me. I never had to speak to them but one time and they didn't sass me either. I wish young parents would do this for their children today," spoke the experienced mother, who thanks her Lord out loud for blessing her with the love she has received from her three sons.

"I worked hard all my life right beside my husband in the field. We raised a big garden, fruit, chickens, hogs and cows. We had a good living there. I canned lots of beef, pork and vegetables. We had the best sausage I ever ate. I think about that sausage sometimes; it was good," she recollects.

They were members of New Hope Baptist Church; it was there, she recalls, she experienced the happiest day of her life.

"My husband was a good singer and he usually sang in the choir, but at this service he sat beside me and the children. When the preacher gave the invitation, my husband reached over and took the baby out of my lap and held it. I knew this was the time I must declare my faith, and I got up and walked down the aisle and accepted Jesus as my Saviour. I have had Him ever since. I've tried to live close to the Lord and He has blessed me with a long life."

Mrs. Minnick read the Bible daily until her eyesight grew too poor.

Recalling many memories stored over the past century, she got the most enjoyment from relating this. "One time a woman said I called her a liar. I told her I hadn't done it and if she said that I had again I would hit her with my walking cane. My family almost died laughing."

Doyle Graham, home administrator, stopped to talk to Mrs. Minnick, saying teasingly that she would be 200 years old Saturday.

She retorts with, "The only reason you keep me here is because I am the oldest resident you have."

What a nice man he is she tells me as he walks on to chat with other members of "his family."

Friends and relatives will honor the centenarian from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Minnick of Leander.

As I left, Mrs. Minnick was looking forward to a busy weekend, telling me it would take both days for her to catch up on her visiting with relatives, hoping Graham would let her stay for both the birthday party and Mother's Day.

★ Council sets

Community Development grant this year, of which $32,728 has been earmarked for a new, 2500-square-foot Neighborhood Center in the west portion of Georgetown, and $11,000 for an 840-square-foot addition to the Georgetown Housing Authority's Stonehaven Center.

Councilmen will also make five appointments, including appointment of three persons to the city's Tax Equalization Board, appointment of a City Judge, and appointment of a person to replace Patricia Brady as a member of the Georgetown Citizens Advisory Commission.

Three preliminary plats for new subdivisions and the Draeger Motor Company's request for a zoning variance on Austin Avenue, all approved last Tuesday night by the Planning and Zoning Commission, will be presented to the Council. Plats include those for a new subdivision near Serenada Estates and two near the San Gabriel Heights subdivision. Draeger Motors is seeking a three-foot variance from zoning regulations concerning setback lines.

The Council will also consider a resolution authorizing the city to purchase bonds it sold to the Brazos River Authority in 1972. The bond sales financed re-letting of a contract to build a sewer loop around the southeast section of the city while the city was involved in litigation over the project. Purchase of the bonds would clear Georgetown's debt with the BRA.

OTHER ITEMS on the Council's Monday agenda include:

Confirmation of the city's $99,991 contract with the M. H. Braden Company of San Antonio to build the new fire substation at Williams and Central Drive.

Consideration of a change in the Council's regular first Monday of the month meeting day. Application by Roy Kade of 1302 Williams Drive for a permit to operate a taxi service.

A report on the activities of Ecology Volunteers, a Georgetown environmental organization, by Linda Graves.

Harold Parker's contest of a penalty assessed for late payment of utility bills.

Possible purchase of the IOOF lodge adjacent City Hall for use as city office space.

Establishment of the fuel adjustment charge to be added to city electricity bills next month. Last month the charge was 98 percent of the retail rate.

★ Week's news

THE PLANNING AND ZONING COMMISSION again rejected the proposal to resubdivide lots in Oak Crest Estate. J. R. Canion's request was greeted with about 50 residents of the subdivision voicing their objections.

Approximately 200 persons gathered in Bartlett to hear the announcements of the Man and Woman of the Year. Rob Bunker and Olga MacKenzie received the coveted honors.

the subject, saying, "I've worked with her many years and any insinuation about her dishonesty is certainly wrong. I resent it. This was an honest mistake and I do stand up for her. It was just a human error and that's all there is to it."

Cervenka also explained that, because of the closeness of the vote, Oman could have requested a recount even had the miscalculation not been made.

"With eight votes I would probably have called for a recount anyway," Oman said, pronouncing himself "satisfied" with the Friday morning proceedings.

"We are going to have to split that precinct into two boxes," Cervenka said. "The law says you have to take into consideration the number of registered voters at the last election. If there are over 2,000 in one election precinct, that box should be split. We have now over 21,000. But at the last election we were a long way from 2,000." Not only box 23, but box 5 in Pond Springs and box 27 in Taylor will be split, Cervenka said, but added that the procedure could not be completed in time for the November presidential election. "It will be done by the commissioners' court this year to go into effect next year," Webby explained.

County considers $151,492 in Revenue Sharing funds

Williamson County Commissioners meet Monday to consider a light agenda which includes setting of a public hearing on the Planned Use Report for Federal Revenue Sharing funds.

Anticipated total statements for this seventh period, from July 1 through December 31, 1976, are $151,492 for Williamson County.

Payments are made in halves on or before October and January.

"This money will go into our '77 fiscal year budget," explained County Auditor Ben Kurio. Planned use reports specify 14 categories — such as public safety, health, environmental protection, libraries and public transportation — in which the money may be spent, but allow for allotment of funds to other categories.

"We have two years in which to spend it," Kurio said.

REVIEW OF A 1,920-ACRE land exchange initially approved during the court's September 22, 1975, session, are on the agenda again.

Action then approved involved exchanging county school land in Sutton County for similar acreage belonging to Lea P. Allison of Sonora.

Official notification of the approval is expected to be given the Sonora landowner as a result of Monday action.

A meeting of the court as the county Board of Equalization will be set, according to the official agenda.

Kathy Swift of Williamson-Burnet County Opportunities will present requests for Title VI employees from the cities of Round Rock and Cedar Park. Round Rock is requesting a certified engineering technician; Cedar Park, a city administrator.

Commissioners will also consider renewal of the consortium agreement with Manpower for the capital area.

A resident of Anderson Mill Road will appear before commissioners to discuss condition of that road.

"If you've ever seen it, you won't need to ask what the problem is," said County Judge C. L. Chance. "It's a cow trail designed to get to two or three houses there — an old road. Now there are two or three additions out there, lots of houses."

Abandonment of a county road in Precinct 1, proposed burial of a telephone cable in Precinct 3 and consideration of regulations on overweight and oversize loads transported on county roads also appear on the agenda.
